

Creative-writing workshop

---

Valeria Vescina Rosenburg Writers

from the lit.z Literaturhaus Zentralschweiz Stans

The Literaturhaus Zentralschweiz (lit.z) is pleased to announce a series of creative-writing workshops. These will take place at the historic Rosenburg in Stans, on three Saturdays: 3 December 2022 (Characterisation), 14 January (Plot Structure and Story Development) and 18 March 2023 (Sense of Place). The sessions are for anyone with an intermediate-to-advanced level of English, not just for native-English speakers.

– Why this initiative?

The Literaturhaus Zentralschweiz offers a lively and varied programme in the cantons of Lucerne, Nidwalden, Obwalden, Schwyz, Uri and Zug. lit.z regularly hosts authors' readings in various languages and runs workshops for adults as well as kids. The Rosenburg Writers workshops are the first to be taught in English. The initiative reflects a wish to address Switzerland's sizeable international community and draw together like-minded people.

The sessions will be led by Valeria Vescina, an English-language novelist and highly experienced tutor, critic and arts festival director now based in Stansstad. In her workshops, she encourages and enables creativity and self-expression. Participants need bring along only their enthusiasm for writing (and for practising their English).

– Reasons to attend – you'll be surprised how many apply to you!

Could you do with a refreshing creative outlet away from your daily routine? Maybe you want to hone your craft? Are you an avid reader keen to 'read like a writer' for deeper enjoyment? Perhaps you have 'a book in you' to which you plan to dedicate time, one day. Or wish for all your writing – including at work – to flow more freely and confidently. Your aim might be to apply storytelling techniques to your business communication, for stronger impact. Whatever your objectives, a day of writing workshops will inspire your creativity. You'll be trying something new in a fun and safe atmosphere with no obligation to share your writing efforts. Numbers are limited, so please book early.
